Harry Potter Tour Recount

Earlier this week, students and teachers from West Hill clambered onto a coach and went on a two and half hour journey to the Warner Brothers Studio (also known as Harry Potter World), so we can find out about Harry Potter because our topic is about Alchemy Island.

To begin the visit, we saw the very bed that Harry Potter lay in before marching into the cinema room and going face to face with the golden trio - Daniel Racklife, Emma Watson and Rupert Grint also known as Harry Potter, Hermione Granger and Ron Weasley, and told us about their life on stage.

Without warning, the cinema screen lifted up and behind it was the entrance to the Great Hall. Since it was Freya's birthday, she had the honours to open the door.

After that, we all went into a room with the actor's clothes in and props. Then saw some of the indoor sets and went on a broomstick ride.

Next, we went into the Forbidden Forest where we saw the giant spiders from the Chamber Of Secrets. William, one of my classmates, pegged it when he turned around and the giant spider lunged at him.

Following on, we then walked into a room which was the very platform 9¾ where the Hogwarts Express was. Astonishingly, we could go in it and every carriage was a different film.

After that, we went to see the outdoor sets and saw Privet Drive; the living room of number four was full of letters. In front of the house was the Knight Bus.

Then we went on to the special effects room where mine and Toby's favourite character Dobby appeared! There was even a hologram of him. In the next room there was a paper model of Hogwarts. Finally, we went into Diagon Alley and found all the broomsticks you could imagine. At this point I could just see round the corner where there was an even bigger model of Hogwarts.

I asked, "Do we have to go I've had such a good day?" But sadly we had to climb back onto the coach for a long three and a half hour journey home.
